About the Role:

We are looking for a highly motivated and dynamic Management-Intern to join our team. This role is ideal for fresh graduates who are eager to learn overall business operations and gain hands-on exposure to management, marketing, and pre-sales functions. The Management-Intern will support senior management in key leadership initiatives, new product development, company visibility & brand presence, planning and business development activities for our International Clients primarily in North America & Europe, while developing the skills required for a long-term managerial career.

Responsibilities:

- Assist in managing and executing sales, pre-sales & marketing activities, including coordination with internal teams.
- Support pre-sales activities, such as lead generation, initial lead screening, database management, and coordination with the senior management.
- Contribute to marketing activities aimed at enhancing company visibility and brand presence.
- Assist in planning and execution of business development activities for international clients.
- Participate in new product development initiatives, including research and coordination.
- Assist in preparing proposals, presentations, pitch decks, and basic company profiles.
- Support planning and execution of internal projects and initiatives.
- Learn company processes, client handling, and internal workflows.
- Work closely with the Leadership Team to continuously build and reinforce best practices and a culture of meritocracy, transparency, and career growth.

Eligibility Criteria:

- Under-Graduate/Postgraduate in Management, Business Administration, Commerce, Engineering, or a related field.
- MBA / BBA in Sales & Marketing preferred.
- Strong analytical and problem-solving skills.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
- Willingness to learn, adapt, and take initiative.
- Proficiency in MS Office (Word, Excel, PowerPoint).
